Democrat or Republican. He saw something in Barbadoes recently that had a great believer in shaping his political creed.

"A short time before going to Barbadoes on business," he said, "I purchased a sewing machine for $25 and gave it to my mother. I was in Barbadoes for nearly three weeks, and while there chanced to see in a gentleman's house a sewing machine which was the precise counterpart of the one I had given my mother. I asked the cost, and was told that the sum of $15$ had been paid for it in Barbedoes. I became convinved that our protective tariff, which allows manufacturers to sell an article for nearly twice as much at home as he gets for it abroad was wrong, and I am going to vote the Democratic ticket.

Admires Hill.

"I am sorry to see that David B. Hill is going to retire from politics," said M. S. Keane, of Washington, to-day. "I have long admired him. He is absolutely honest. It has never been charged by his ensmies that he has made a cent out of politics. His administration as Governor of New York was absolutely untainted with 'graft,' and charges of dishonesty were never made against him, sven by his bitterest enemies. He is singularly free from vices of every character. He never takes a drink of stimulant of anyy kind whatever, and he has never smoked or chewed tobacco. I remember while he was in the Senate an effort, was made by some temperance people to enlist his ald in securing the abolition of the bar in the basement of the Capitol, He positively refused to vote for such a measure, saying that while he never patronized the saloon, he recognized the right of those members who wished a dring to take one, and to have it convenient if they chose."

The House in Doubt.

It is small wonder that Chairman Babcock, of the Republican National Congressional Committee, should be depressed at the outlook from the Republican viewpoint. He concedes that there are more than seventy districts, including fifty represented by Republicans, which are doubtful. Mr. Babcock was in Washington yesterday and last night, and he confirmed all that has been said concerning his prognostications. He was especially pronounced in declaring that his re-election from the Third Wisconsin is doubtful.

TAGGART CAREFUL.

Hopes Babcock Is Right, But Will Not Commit Himself.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

NEW YORK, August 30.—Chairman Taggart, of the Democratic National Committee does not feel as sanguine of the Democratic prospects of carrying the national House of Representatives as Chairman Babcock's doleful description of the situation from Republican viewpoint would seem to Warrant.

"I hope Mr. Babcock is correct, and we will try to make his prophecy good," was as strong an endorsement of the Republican manager's fear as he would venture to-day.

"Do you think you will succeed in making the prehecy good?" was a god.

"I hope so," was all he would reply.

Mr. Taggart said that there would be no branch of the Democratic Congressional Committee headquarters established here. (Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

EDITORIAL CONFERENCE tion from the Third Wisconsin is doubtful. Summed up/ it looks very much as though the Republicans had about given up hope of electing a majority to the next House, however hopeful they may be of electing Mr. Robosevelt. It is remarkable that the chief argument advanced by Mr. Babcock yesterday in favor of the election of a Republican house was that if the Democrats got the House of Representatives they would cause constant turmoil by investigations of the executive departments of the government. There is not the slightest doubt that this would give the Republicans more displeasure and a greater number of bad hours than anything that could be undertailen. But the tax-payers of the country would be immensely benefited and the cause of honest and accommissing government would be greatly advanced. The Democratic Plan. This number does not include the band of 24 pieces, which will accompany the regiment. This is the Virginia Polytechnic Institute Cadet Band, which has been secured for the occasion, the men of the regiment paying the cost for music out of their own pockets, if the citizens of Virginia are unwilling to contribute to the fund.

Colonel Anderson earnestly hopes that the friends of the Virginia militiamen will come to their ald in this matter and contribute sufficient funds with which to pay for the band which has been secured at a very low figure, because the men desire the experience. Contributions may be reported to Colonel Anderson or any officer of the regiment and will be acknowledged by him. The fund for the band is still $800 short of the requisite sum, and as stated this deficit must be made up by the men out of their own funds unless the friends of the military contribute.
